The House yesterday passed and sent to the Senate the Hawley bill providing for settlement of the wartime debt of France to the United States.

The agreement, which was approved last session by the House but not act-ment by France of $4,025,000,000 over 62 years. The roll call vote was 239 to 100.

The vote came after three hours of debate, during which proponents of the plan, negotiated by Secretary Mellon and former Ambassador Berenger, said it represented the largest sum which could be expected of France. Opponents contended that less than 50 per cent of the obligation would be made under the agreement and that France is making large expenditures for armaments which should be applied on its debts.

Frazier, of North Dakota, got Norris in a similar twist. Neither Frazier Nye nor Cutting could understand just how the constitution could be such an instrument that would permit Vare, around whom $700,000 was spent in the campaign, to be kicked out, yet protect Grundy who admits collecting personally $500,000 of the approximately $2,000,000 campaign of Fisher, who appointed him.

"Does the senator mean to say. Norris righteously asked of Frazier. "that Grundy had an understanding with Fisher when he collected this money for him that the governor was to appoint him to the Senate?"

Big Outbreak Unexpected.

Big Outbreak Unexpected.

It had not been expected that there would be quite the outbreak that it was. The political minds which just now hold sway in the Senate had agreed that regardless of any arguments which might be made, of any parallel that might be drawn in the cases of Grundy and Vare, that a fight on the former was not the judicious thing. An important factor, of course, is that they hope to make merry with him from now on.

But Nye insisted on introducing his challenging resolution to square himself. Even he was not of a mind to cause the outbreak and expressed a willingness to let Grundy take the oath and his resolution go to committee. He made a little speech in connection with it, however, and both he and Cutting, who followed him, spoke disparagingly of the Senate's constitutional experts, necessitating that all the spectra. ate's constitutional experts, necessi-ating that all the experts be heard from and taking up the entire afternoon.

It was after 1 o'clock when Grundy walked in, accompanied by Senator Reed. The galleries were crowded and scores of House members had come over to see the fun. Grundy had been expected at 1 o'clock, but because of the slippery roads Gov. Pisher's secretary, coming down from Harrisburg, with the famous credentials, was delayed.

Senate in Midst of Tariff.

The Senate was in the midst of e consideration of one of the wool schedules. Over in one corner hung several worsted suits as they might hang in a cleaning and pressing shop and in the other corner hung several suits of inferior quality. Norris has referred to the worsted display as Grundy's store and that on the other tide of the sisle as Senator Dave Walsh's store, the two of them standing on either side, as Norris explained, of Main street, the chamber's tenter sisle. Over in one corner hung several worsted suits as they might hang in a cleaning and pressing shop and in the other corner hung several suits of inferior quality. Norris has referred to the worsted display as Grundy's store and that on the other cide of the aisle as Senator Dave Waish's store, the two of them standing on either side, as Norris explained, of Main street, the chamber's tenter aisle.

Senator Waish, of Montana, was talking about "Mr. Grundy's yarns" and suggesting that Grundy should be asked if his business was oppressed.

That was the beginning of Grundy's judging. Reed piloted him to Norris' seat, and a few minutes later the Nebraskan came in. He drew up short and then burst out laughing as he warmly shook hands with the "Backward States" Mentioned.

Walsh subsequently came over and shook hands, too, laughing over the fact that he had been sounding the name of Grundy even as the new the name of Grundy even as the new senator walked in.

Credentials Are Shown.

As soon as Senator Smoot, in charge of the tariff bill, paused. Reed got the foor and presented Grundy's credentials, a big wide sheet of paper, with the gold seal in the lower left-hand corner. It was Gov. Fisher's notification that since the Senate would not take Vare he thereby appointed Grundy.

provided simply that, inasmuch as the Senate would not accept Vare, who spent $700,000, it should not accept the creature of a man who spent nearly three times as much, especially since Grundy had had to do with Fisher's fund raising.

Things began to warm up when Cutting referred to Grundy as an "arch lobbylst."

Citizens Have Right to T Their Wishes to Public

Personal Charm Admitted.

"In a short while he will be sitting with other senators as an equal," Cutting complained. "Some of us will sit with him on committees; some of will break bread with him. Man of us will succumb to his undoubted personal charm. From this time on none of us will be able to impute to him other than the highest of motives in everything he does-this man ed."

Cutting kept referring to the "alleged governor" of Pennsylvania. He declared that for the life of him he could not understand how the Senate could hold that there had been no election in 1926, as he insisted it did when it refused to seat either Vare or his Democratic opponent, William B. Wilson, and yet hold that there had been an election of a governor in the same campaign.

same campaign.
The constitutional authorities,
Robinson, Key, Pittman, Swanson and all of them, insisted that it was for the State to challenge the election of the governor, not the Senate, and there was no questioning the con-stitutional right of this unchallenged governor to fill the vacancy created by denial of the seat to Vare.

Wheeler Lectures Grundy,

Wheeler Lectures Grundy.

Even Senator Wheeler, of Montana, who voted to seat Wilson, agreed to this, but he gave Grundy a severe lecture while he was on his feet. Speaking to him directly, he said:

"The appointment of Mr. Grundy is an insult to the people of the United States; it is an insult to the right-thinking people of the country."

He said he was not surprised, however, that "the Republican Old Guard looks on it so complacently. Grundy has not done anything more than the rest of the Old Guard Republicans."
He expressed the hope that Grundy's coming to the Senate this way would show the country in one eyeful what the Old Guard Republican party is, just what it stands for.

The only roll call of the day rejected, by 45 to 34, an amendment by Senator Hayden (Democrat), Arizona, to restore the existing combination rate of 33 cents a pound and 20 per cent ad valorem on carbonized wool, including tops, not further advanced than reving. The committee rate of 37 cents a pound and 20 per cent was accepted without a record vote.

Arguing for his amendment, Hayden contended that the rate on raw wool was not wholly effective and consequently there was no justification for placing a 3 or 4 cent differential above that duty on every other levy in the schedule.

Friendship Ties Based

New York, Dec. 12 (A.P.).-Presi-New York, Dec. 12 (A.P.).—President-Elect Ortiz Rubio of Mexico to-night broadcast his first public atatement to the people of the United States in a good-will message over a Nation-wide radio network of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

"I have been for many years a sincere admirer of this great Nation for the heights it has attained, which constitutes a proud accomplishment for all the inhabitants of this continent," he said, in slow but clear English.

ment," he said, in slow but clear ang-lish.

"I believe it is indispensable for the prosperity of both countries to strengthen more and more the ties of friendship which unite us on a basis of mutual respect. I hope with all my heart that the prosperity of the United States continues its bril-liant ascent because the prosperity of the United States contributes to the prosperity of America and the prosperity of America signifies sooner or later the prosperity of humanity." schedule.

Opposing the amendment, Chairman Smoot of the finance committee asserted that, if adopted, it would "kill the wool industry in the West." "kill the wool industry in the weak.

Nine Republican independents and four Democrats joined 32 Republiccan regulars in voting against the Hayden proposal. Three independents and 1 regular combined with 30 Democrats in supporting it. Approved also was given a committee proposal to increase the duty on top, slubbing, roving and ring waste from 31 cents in the present law and 34 cents in the House bill to 37 cents a pound. The House provided the same rates on these wastes as it did on raw wool.
Elimination of the lower duty brackets in the wool yarn paragraph was approved, as recommended by the finance committee, thus placing yarns valued at not more than 50 cents a pound in the same bracket with yarns worth not over $1
pound.

MACHADO'S PROTES ON SUGAR DUTY REAL

Immoderate Increase Would Destroy Economic Power of Nation, Claim.

LOBBY INQUIRY GOES ON

(Associated Press.)
A protest by President Machado of Cuba against an "immoderate increase" in the American sugar tariff was read yesterday before the Senate lobby committee,

It was in a letter the Cuban president wrote last Marsh to H. C. Lakin, president of the Cuba Co., who has been active in advocating a low sugar duty in the pending tariff measure and who was the only witness at resterday's session of the committee.

Lakin, whose company has large sugar holdings in Cuba, has been cooperating with the Cuban government in urging a low duty and only recently returned from Havana, where he conferred with Machado. The letter, which was obtained by a lobby committee investigator from Lakin's files, asserted: "Immoderate increase in the tariff duties, especially as applied to the main and almost sole product of Cuba, namely sugar, will bring as a consequence the destruction of the present economic power of the nation."

uban Annihilation Hinted. It added:

i so unfounded and so enormous that justification for it could be found only in very grave purposes of international scope obliging a power-ful republic to annihilate its small neighbor.

"This could be explained," the letter continued, "only after there had been any disloyalty or offense of some consequence, but not so long as there experience adhesion, singers adhesion. sequence, but not so ists real affection, sin full cooperation and ists real affection, sincere adhesion, full cooperation and the desire to show at all times and in all cases the extreme and profound gratefulness which the Cuban people feel toward the American Nation."

Lakin to Reappear Today. After the letter was read the com nittee adjourned until today without questioning Lakin concerning its contents. He was directed to reappear today.

A denial that he was retained by Cuba sugar interests because of his friendship with President Hoover was made in a statement issued last night by Edwin P. Shattuck, of New York City.

Representative LaGuardian (Republican), New York, called a meeting of the wet bloc for tomorrow.

Traditional Enmity Gone, Claim.

Earlier in his speech Henderson made a great point of what he said had often been called the "traditional enmity" of England and France. He described how misunderstandings had been gradually swept away and declared that the two countries now are friends "who have proved that they can work together."

He thought this abundantly proved by their common experience in the League of Nations.

"All through the early days of the League of Nations it was the French and the British delegations who worked together to build it up," he said. "Had they not so worked, who believes that the League would have survived?"

New Tasks Are Faced.. questions. He has told Italy's representative at Paris that France intends to go to Lordon with a program of her needs based on the length of her coastline and her lines of communication with her colonies. The veteran statesman informed the Italian envoy that North Africa must be regarded as a part of France, requiring a fleet capable of keeping communications with the mother country open under all circumstances.

The word "parity" was not mentioned by Briand either in his discussions with Count Manzoni nor in the aide memoir on these conversations which he handed the Italian Embassy here, although Italy has made Franco-Italian parity a condition to a preliminary agreement between Rome and Paris.

Dr. J. Harris Rogers, 73 years old

Dr. J. Harris Rogers, 73 years old, world-famous inventor and scientist, died early yesterday morning at his home in Hytataville, Md., where he has carried on the greater part of his research labors since 1895.

Death was attributed to angina pectoris and came, without warning, after Dr. Harris had entertained a group of friends Wednesday night at his home. He appeared in reasonably good health when he retired, but suffered a heart attack shortly after midnight, from which he failed to recover.

Even Dr. Kieb would not predict that the end of Auburn's gum play was in sight and no prison official would say that there would probably be no more trouble. All agreed there would probably be more attempts to escape, but there was a difference of opinion about when these further attempts would be made.

Dr. Kieb conferred with District Attorney Kenyon on the advisability of calling a special term of the grand jury to investigate the situation. Gov. #### MR. GRUNDY SEATED.

After wasting much time in demonstrating what has already been proved over and over again-namely, that the United States Sente contains in its membership men who subract from the sum total of American inteligence—the Senate yesterday permitted Joseph R. Grundy, of Pennsylvania, to take his seat.

The preposterous assertion was made that Grundy's credentials were tainted because the governor who appointed him was the true choice of the voters of Pennsylvania. Fortunately there were senators on both sides of the aisle who demolished the contention that the Senate has power to pass judgment upon State elections.

One of the most unfair positions taken by the opponents of Mr. Grundy was that as- ible tariff. The proposition to leave it to sumed by a younger statesman whose only claim to public notice heretofore has been his effort to amend the tariff law in such a way as to have the effect of facilitating the the coalition means to stand by its proposal entry of obscene foreign literature into the to make Congress an administrative agency, United States. His argument was that inas- its pretense of favoring flexibility should be much as Mr. Grundy was soon to be a sen- dropped. ntor, the only opportunity open for assailing him was before he had taken the oath.

Former President Coolidge recently observed that the Senate was compelled to function with such men as the voters sent to that body. He suggested that the voters were to blame if the quality of senators had deteriorated. Very little criticism has been leveled against individuals appointed by governors, and the Senate as a body had no criticism to make of Mr. Grundy. He heard with composure the criticisms of a few individuals in the Senate, and seemed to enjoy the discomfiture of those who had sought to stigmatize him and then voted to seat him. All's well that ends well. The State of Pennsylvania has two able senators. The Senate, in spite of the efforts of members who would misuse its powers, has done well in seating Senator Grundy.

RAILROAD VALUATION.

The first congressional repercussion of the ow famous O'Fallon decision, rendered by the Supreme Court last May, takes the form of a resolution introduced by Senator Howell backing up the Interstate Commerce Commethod of making railroad valuations. "Unless Congress intervenes," says riots elsewhere. Prisons are overcrowded. ultimately will result in increasing the present tentative valuation of all railroads, adopted by the Interstate Commerce Commission for rate-making purposes, from $21,000,000,000 tq about $30,000,000,000. Such an increase in the rate bases of the than suffer hopeless torment. railroads ultimately will be reflected in higher railroad rates - rates as high as the tion would validate the "principles and methods" of the commission in making valuations prior to the O'Fallon decision.

Congress, however, can not set up rules that would make a fair valuation impossible. If the resolution under consideration were adopted it would inevitably be tested before the Supreme Court, and that body already has indicated that the cost of reproduction of railway property must be taken into consideration in making valuations.

The practical effect of the O'Fallon decision has yet to be demonstrated. The Supreme Court did not say, as Senator Howell and others seem to believe, that the present reproduction cost as contrasted with the original cost, should be the governing factor in the making of valuations. It held merely that due consideration must be given to the reproduction cost along with all other pertinent facts, and it added that "the weight to be accorded thereto is not the matter before us." Until further court action is taken to determine how much weight shall be given to the reproduction cost, who can say how much the valuation of the railroads will be increased as a result of the O'Fallon de-

Following the decision, President Hoover said: "I am confident that there will be no increase in railroad rates as a result of the O'Fallon decision." Thus far, inasmuch as there have been no moves for increased valuation, his confidence seems to have been well grounded. The significant fact is that most of the roads have not been earning the 5% per cent allowed by the law upon their present valuations and that, notwithstanding. the tendency has been toward rate reduc tions. The explanation lies in the fact that the railroads realize that it is suicidal to try to impose a greater tariff than "the traffic competition of buses, private automobiles, commanded by Gens. Rawlinson, Debeney, supreme court.

airplanes, waterways, &c., it seems probable that the traffic will bear less and less as time goes on.

FLEXIBLE TARIFF PLANS.

The final struggle over the tariff bill will probably center about the flexible provision. When the measure goes to conference it will be necessary to reconcile the widely diverging plans adopted by the House and Senate. The regular Republicans and the coalition are beginning now to build up their respective cases in preparation for the conference fight. Senator Robinson, Democratic floor leader. issued a statement in which he tries to make it appear that the coalition is not opposed to principle of a flexible tariff. The word flexibility is retained in the coalition scheme to impose a purely administrative duty upon Since the flexible provision has been most frequently used in the past to provide relief for agriculture, flat opposition to it would not meet the approval of the farmers whom the coalition claims to represent. Hence, the coalition forced through the Senate a provision which has the lofty purpose of making the farmers believe that flexibility is retained, while actually it would take from the President his limited authority to alter rates under conditions of destructive competition. Flexibility would be entangled in the red tape which involves every act of Congress on the tariff.

This statement synchronizes with a speech in the House by Representative Ramseyer, of Iowa. He refers to the efforts of the House to facilitate operation of the flexible provision. At present when the Tariff Commission is asked to investigate cut-throat foreign competition for any commodity, the law requires it to investigate the costs of production here and abroad. This is a slow process. There is hope of more prompt action under the new provision of the House for investigation of the difference in competitive conditions. This would hasten action, while the Senate coalition plan would nullify the flexible provision.

Mr. Ramseyer makes a direct answer to the coalition's ruse of supporting a flexible tariff. A change in duties under the coalition plan, he says, would follow the characteristic congressional speed. No law that Congress could pass would give assurance of speedy action on an issue of this kind. Mr. Ramseyer is right when he declared, "If you are opposed to giving the President or the Tariff Commission the power to proclaim changes in duties based on a rule prescribed by Congress, then you are against the flex-Congress to act on and make effective the recommendations of the Tariff Commission has not one whit of flexibility in it."

PRISON RIOTS.

The fact that society holds the upper hand over those whom it must incarcerate does not mitigate the concern that is universally felt over such outbreaks as the Auburn riot. Something is fundamentally wrong with the handling of prisoners in the United States.

The story of prison outbreaks of recent months proves that bad conditions are the rule and not the exception. Five times in five months have there been major uprisings. On July 22, 1,300 prisoners started a riot in Clinton Prison at Danhemora, N. Y. Three convicts were killed before the rioters were quelled. Less than a week later the convicts at Auburn mutinied, firing the prison buildings. Two were killed in that affair, and four escaped, one of whom was recaptured. On August 1 Federal prisoners at Leavenworth arose, and one prisoner was killed in the rioting. Two months later, on October 3, the inmates of Colorado State Prison revolted, and before they were put down, 17 hours later, seven guards and five convicts were killed.

The causes that led to the outbreak at Auburn are similar to those underlying jail the senator, "the Supreme Court decision Judges are imposing longer sentences, and parole is allowed less frequently. Prisons and penitentiaries are packed to suffocation with desperate characters who have nothing to lose but their lives when they rise in revolt, and they would rather risk their lives

The New York State Commission of Correction anticipated the Auburn affair. Durtraffic will bear." Senator Howell's resolu- ing its investigation of the July outbreak it discovered a spirit of unrest and of tenseness. "The men," said Commissioner Hoey, were doubled up in cells, and the tiers were doubled up with beds, but there was nothing we could do." All that could be done was to augment the guard forces, pending completion of the State prison building program. This is a matter of years.

The prison problem is of universal concern. A by-product of the lawlessness with which the United States is beset, there seems to be but one palliative; namely, the expanding of prison facilities. Society should at least make it impossible for convicts to make a showing of justification for murderous uprisings as the only escape from intolerable conditions.

THE FLAG ACROSS THE RHINE.

This morning at 8:30 o'clock, eleven years ago, the American combat flag in the face of a cold drizzling rain flapped its way across the Rhine. It crossed at Coblenz at the same place where the Roman legions under Varus crossed and were massacred. This disaster caused Emperor Augustus to cry out in his sleepless nights: "Varus, Varus, give me back my legions!"

The pathway of this American flag had been over fields of glory. It had floated where more battles have been fought than at any other place on earth-where falls the water that forms the Rhine.

This American combat flag made historyhistory that will be handed down for centuries. It had come from far-away Arizona, crossed the States and the ocean, and was first displayed at Sanzey, France, on January 21, 1918. The flag then ranged on about 250 miles of battle front. It traveled over 2.000 miles in Europe, much of the time under fire.

Humbert, Mangin, Degoutte, De Mitry, Be thelot, Gouraud, Hirschauer, Pershing, Liggett, Bullard and Gerard. It was under enemy fire on five battlefields-Meuse-Argonne, St. Mihiel, Montdidier-Noyon, Alsne Marne and Defense Sectors.

The highest honors that can come to a flag were bestowed upon this American standard-it was shot full of holes. It was the shroud for those who fell on the battlefield, allies and Americans alike. When it crossed the enemy frontier it won its greatest victory, by bringing comfort and protection to terror-stricken women and children. The news that the American flag protected women and children was flashed all over Germany. The nathway of Old Glory down the Moselle River will live in saga and in song long after the last glacler has melted that forms the Rhine.

CAPITOL PARK EXTENSION.

The beautification and extension of the Capitol grounds is one of the most important projects included in the plans for the development of the Federal City. The vista from Union Station is far from attractive. Those who come to Washington and whose eyes in stinctively turn first toward the lofty dome see the Capitol across barren lots from which the unsightly Government hotels have only recently been razed. The budget for 1931 asks an appropriation of $4,900,000 to extend the Capitol grounds and develop the park that has been planned, but appropriations for 1931 do not become available until July President Hoover this week forwarded to Congress a supplemental estimate totaling $1,277,000 to make possible an early start on the work. It will be used if it is allowed to improve the two squares directly west of the Senate Office Building and to build beneath them a garage for the automobiles of senators and their employes. Thus a double benefit will be obtained. The first section of the proposed park will be completed and traffic congestion in the new park and in the Capitol Plaza will be removed.

The supplemental estimate will be embodied in the first deficiency appropriation bill to be acted upon during the winter. It is to be hoped that this early start can be made toward extending the Capitol grounds.

Bert Acosta, trahsatlantic flier, sprained his ankle getting out of a rumble seat. We've always thought that rumble seats were a major menace.

That lazy Soviet mailman who threw the letters away would be a handy fellow to have around these parts on the first of next month.

The extra session of Congress cost Uncle Sam $910,642, and there's no chance for him to get his money back.

A WORLD STATE

From the Chicago Tribune.

The analogy used to acquaint Americans with the functions and purposes of the world court refers to the United States Supreme Court. If the internationalists are allowed to have their comparison, they become more and not less disquieting. The United States Supreme Court is a product of the same development which brought the American Government into being. It is supposed to have the same background of tradition, institutional growth and mental and moral discipline that the other branches of American Government have.

Some of its authority was a purely American conception, but it was a congruous government form. Even so, it was probably the most opposed of all the forms adopted. The early Americans agreed much more readily to the provisions for legislation and administration than they did to the provision for the Federal judiciary. This was particularly true as to the authority to prevent legislation by her skirt and flagged a train. declaring it contrary to the Constitution. There was a feeling that if this power was not given to the Executive it ought to be reserved by the States or that it ought to be so reserved without question and without any alternative.

In the development of the court it acquired final authority, and when it did so the Union of States had become a nation held together by a power which could make conclusive decisions. It was more than the court of last resort. It was an authority which no State could resist legally. It was the clamp which a dressed chicken. Sure. And let the made one State out of many. It did what Marshall intended it to do, and what Jefferson and Jackson tried to prevent it doing, Unionists though they were.

If the world court is the counterpart of the United States Supreme Court, as its proponents explain when they want to allay fears and misgivings, it is the court of a world state. Its purpose then is to bring the nations which adhere to it into a close and binding union in which the United States would be one state just as Illinois is one State in the American Union under the United States Supreme Court.

If that is the definition of the thing as the proposers of it say, then the triumph of the League of Nations over the American instinct for avoidance of alien interference is only a small part of the consequences. The development of this international federation into a world government by the decision of a world court is in prospect. The American States are content to accept this consequence in relation to their own federation of states because, in spite of their occasional troubles, they want to maintain a nation. They may not like all the decisions which come from their supreme judicial authority, but they prefer to accept that authority rather than the alternative of not having it.

The American people have not said they wanted to submit to a world federatio which would make a world state. Time and again they have said they did not want to. They do not want a place in such a super-They do not want this or any restriction upon their nationality. THE psychoanalysts and the behaviorists find many obscure and indirect causes of divorce, but one of the most prolific causes is no more obscure than a sore thumb.

It is bad manners-not the kind that results in awkward violations of formal etiquette, but the boorish manners that are revealed in common, vulgar discourtesy.

People who practice such manners almost invariably win their mates under false pretense. They know how to behave well. Their manners during courtship endeavoring by every art they know to make a good impression. They are on their good behavior, as all supplicants are, and they have no motive more sinister than a desire to please. Also, they are strangers, on unfamiliar ground, and without thought or conscious effort they practice the guarded courtesy common to people who feel a little out of place and are not sure of their ground. Marriage ends the pretense. With nothing more to be gained, as they see it, and nothing to fear, they dare to relax and be themselves. They make no effort to restrain their occasional ill humors; every impulse is given free rein; they are "natural"-which means that they frequently are peevish, petty, quarrelsome, insulting, inconsiderate, spiteful, hateful, rude.

Their marriage is a failure because they make home a bedlam. How can one who is courted or one who is courting discover in ime_that the other's apparent good manners conceal a nature that will make the intimacy of married life intolerable?

Women Obtain Posts Abroad In Consulates

Several Have Made Good as Vice Consuls in U. S. Service.

By JEAN ELIOT.

HE questions "Can a woman make the foreign service can she succeed in it?" have seen answered in the affirmative. Petticoated diplomats are still pioneers and there are many ob-stacles in their way. However, difficulties do not seem to dampen feminine enthusiasm and more and more women are trying to "crash" the gates of diplomacy so long closed against them. Even now two Washington girls, Miss Elasnor Wells and Miss Caroline Michell, are studying hard with a view to taking the foreign service xaminations.

Liss Wells is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Wells and Misk Mitchell, the daughter of Mr. Caroline Mitchell, who has made her home in the Capital since her divorce from Gen. "But" Mitchell. Both girls are exceptionally clever and should have the qualifications for success in profession whose demands

Mis Lucille Atcherson, who blazed the fall as the first woman officially conacted with the Diplomatic Service of the United States, gave up her profession when ahe married Dr. George M. New Venture Is Announced By Mrs. Curtis Interior Decorating Will Occupy Her Attention Henceforth.

The famous Mrs. "Jimmie" Curtis, whose exploits are a never-failing topic of interest to Washington society, is about to launch another House of Curtis. Three years ago this month she opened a shop on Connecticut avenue, turning over the management to Mrs. Maurice Crumpacker, widow of the Oregon congressman. Her latest venture is in the interior decorating business. From no less a person than Mrs. Curtis herself comes confirmation of the story that she will run the shop, assisted by Mrs. Amory Smith, widow of an Army officer.

Mrs. Curtis, a staunch Republican was active during the Hoover campaign, but there being no politica to play, this energetic lady must needs have some real interest in addition to her social triumphs.

Capital Losing Dr. Bedoya and Charming Wife

Peruvian Secretary Is to Go to Vatican City in Spring.

News of the departures of member of the Diplomatic Corps are becoming almost daily bulletins in Washington. One hears the rumors long before they are officially announced, and farewell parties become the order of the day. The latest addition to those of the younger diplomats who are leaving in the spring is Dr. Santiago Bedoya, popular First Secretary of the Peruvian Embassy, with his the Peruvian Embassy, with his charming wife. Dr. Bedoya has been in Washington for about ten years and has always ranked among Washington's most popular beaux. Four years ago he married a beautiful California girl, Miss Josephine Matteson, who had been visiting here after finishing at school in Boston. Since then they have endeared themselves to Capital society.

Dr. and Senora de Bedoya expect to leave Washington in Pebruary or March for the Vatican City, where he will assume his duties at the Papal Court.

American Pen Women Arranging Breakfast.

The Yuletide celebrity breakfast of the National League of America Pen Women will be on December 28 at the Willard Hotel. The features will be recitations and songs by Mrs. David H. Kincheloe, wife of Reprepayid it. Aincheloe, of Kentucky, who will give Negro dialect songs and will also sing classical numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Carl R. Chindblom, wife of Representative Chindblom of Illinois.

Mrs. Noble Cook Coles, speaker at the Old English Coffee House talk to be given by the District League of American Pen Women at the studio in Stoneleigh Court this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, has accompanied her husband, the celebrated anthropologist, Fay Cooper-Coles, of the Field Museum, on all of his expeditions in the southeast Orient.
"Savage Gentlemen" will be Mrs. Coles' subject this afternoon.

For the Contract Bridge Novice. This is a continuation of the series Auction players who are not familiar with Contract.

No slam premium is counted in Contract unless the slam is bid for; when a Declarer makes more than the amount of his contract he counts 80 above the line for each extra trick, regardless of whether he is vulnerable or not, unless he has been doubled. If doubled, the extra tricks count 100 if not vulnerable, 200 if provided the counts below the line 120 for four 5pades and makes six-odd undoubled; he counts below the line 20 for four of a major suit (a major counts 30 per trick), and above the line 50 for each of his two extra tricks. The second extra trick, which would make a small slam at Auction, would count no more than the first extra trick at Contract because the small slam had not been bid. If Declarer had bid six Spades and made them, he would count 180 below the line for his contract, and above the line for his contract, and above the line for his contract, and above the line and making a small slam—500 if not vulnerable, 750 if vulnerable.

The point to be noted is that tricks in excess of contract are never counted below the line as they are in Auction. The amount of the bid limits the amount of the count below the line. This is true even if the tricks of the Declarer are increased by tricks taken for a revoke penalty, A Declarer who bid two Spades, took eight tricks, and received two for a revoke penalty, would not count below the line the total value of four Spades and go game as he would in Auction. He would count below the line only the amount of his bid (60) and above the line the value of the two extra tricks, [100].

If Declarer bid two Spades, was doubled, and made eight tricks, was and above the line the value of the two extra tricks, (100).

If Declarer bid two Spades, was doubled, and made eight tricks; he would count below the line the two odd tricks he bid for, and would go game because the adversaries by their double had increased the value of each trick from 30 to 60. Two Spades at 60 each would count 120.

A slam may be bid for by saying, for example, "six Spades" or "small slam in Spades"—the meaning would be identical, Either would be a slambid despite the nonsensical contention frequently heard that a player—who bids six of a declaration and makes it is not entitled to the slam bonus because he did not use the word "slam."

TOMOTTOW

By FRANCES M'DONALD: You have helped so many people and perhaps you can help me, too. About a year ago I met and fell in love with a young man who worked with me. It was not until six months later, when his wife found out about our affair, that the secret marriage was announced. He promised that he would never live with his wife and went away, securing a position in another city. Now I find that he is living there with his wife and o you think as I do, that he is trying to make the best of an unhappy marriage until he can find reason to divorce his wife as he promised, or would you suggest that I try to forget him and go around with other boys. JUST such expenses as these, of course, are what keep the old theater bowing in the wind. Transportation, hotel rates, stage hands, musicians, the high cost of billing and 1,000 other items of production make the going harder every day. By the time a producer gets his play on the boards he has expended some $40,000 or $50,000. Then the trick is to get it back. The woman of fashion is tired of the ideal of Dians the Huntress and is ready to accept the ideal of the more feminine Venus. This, according to a famous Parisian couturier, is the reason for the radical change in the silhouette seen in women's clothes this season.

should not be accused and punished for contempt of the court.

Reed and his associates were cited by Judge William H. McCamish, of the district court. Yesterday the attorneys took the inaurance case into Federal court, where the Fire Insurance Co. of Chicago, an Illinois corporation and a majority stockholder in the Federal Reserve Life Insurance Co., obtained a restraining order from United States District Judge John C. Pollock, preventing the operation of a temporary receivership appointed recently by Judge McCamish.

Judge Pollock said his order would To Match Your Old Coats EISEMAN, 7th & F FULL DRESS SUIT SHOP

EMMA REDELL GETS CONCERT WELCOME

Applause Is Frequent During Capital Prima Donna's Song Program.

GREETED WITH OVATION

own song birds yesterday in Emma dell, prima donna soprano, who speared in concert at the New Naial Theater before an appreciative lience of music lovers and friends. eting. Again and again during concert applause was offered in liment to her really excellent ntation of a comprehensive program. This was Miss Redell's first concert in Washington since she reached operatic rank, but she is well remembered here as a church soloist and singer at civic affairs. Miss Redell has sung in Europe and won considerable success there. Recently she made her American debut at Carnegle Hall, where she pleased the critics.

ahe made her American debut at Carnegle Hall, where she pleased the critics.

Miss Redell was presented in Wash-Ington by Virginia Powell Harriss and T. Arthur Smith.

Her voice is a sweet, resonant so-prano with dramatic possibilities. In yesterday's concert it portrayed the result of careful training, especially in the operatic selections, which included "Cavatine," from "The Marriage of Figano," by Mozart; an aria from "Tannhauser," and an aria from "Lo Forza del Destino," by Verdi.

Miss Redell sang other selections in English, Italian and German with acceptable diction, vivid interpretations and a versatility of style in many musical genres. The graces of song are hers, beyond doubt. She has, in addition, pleasing personality, understanding of phrasing and the art of controlling and applying her voice satisfactorily. Her middle register is rich and full and her upper tones are marked by good pitch, resonance and sweetness.

Three Men Lose Lives In Texas Hotel Fire

Wichita Falls, Tex., Dec. 12 (A.P.). Three men, including two firemen, were killed here today in a fire that destroyed the Antiers Hotel, a three-story brick structure.

The dead are: Smiley Turner, assistant fire chief; G. T. Anderson, fireman, and Kenneth Brice, taxi driver. The firemen were killed when a wall caved in. Brice died as the roof fell in while he was crying for help at a third-story window. Eight persons were injured, four of them critically. The fire broke out shortly before daylight. Its origin was not immediately determined.

Man Held for Attacking Former Mrs. Curwood

Orlando, Fla., Dec. 12 (A.P.).—R. C. Patton, of Lims, Ohio, traveling salesman for a Brooklyn Metal Stamping Co., was bound over to the Orange County criminal court of record today on a charge of assault with intent to murder Mrs. Cora Lee Eden, at her home on the Winter Garden road on November 12 isst.

Mrs. Eden was divorced from the later James Oliver Curwood, the writer. Patton told authorities he shot her because she rejected his love after accepting his attentions for six years. Bond was fixed at $2,500 and the case was set for the next term of court.

program, but it will be filled with the cheer which comes from the singing of Christmas carols.

Arrangements have been completed to have carol singing at the National Community Christmas tree in Sherman Square, with the United States Marine Band providing a concert previous to the opening of the program and then accompanying the carol singers.

Mrs. Joseph M. Stoddard is chairman of the committee in charge of the carol simping find she has made plans to have the singers appear, not only at the national tree, but in other institutions of the city, at homes and on the streets.

The District Commissioners are cooperating in the program of carol singing, while the District Federation of Music Clubs, the music department of the public schools, the Church Music Council, the Young Women's Christian Association and a number of other organizations will do their share to make the program a success.

Carol singing without beautiful decorations on the homes of Capital residents is likely to fall in its purpose and, for that reason, attention is called to the rules for the contest by The Post and the Electric Deague for which a silver loving cup will be offered to the best lighted community and a long list of prizes to 'he best decorated individual residences.

Briefly, the rules of this contest are as follows: Any one living in the District or within 3 miles of it is eligible. Sectional lines, as laid down by the Federation of Citizens Associations, will determine community winners. Entries must be made in the name of a single individual Only displays on residential property will be considered for prizes. Displays will be judged for artistic merit. Each outdoor display must contain at least seven lights. Community winners will be determined by the percentage of homes in the

Silver Years

"After the golden years of youth, me those of fine silver." By GERTRUDE S. TROWBRIDGE.

socause the world uses older people more than it did, it is easier to have interesting late years and because psychologists are revealing our superior powers, we may draw upon reservoirs of strength, hitherto undreamed of, when the urge and impulse of youth diminish. Primitive people use these powers instinctively, but we wait for their analysis.
To illustrate. One of my friends, a small woman, was wheeling her plump baby carriage along a country, road.
Suddenly, a motorist.

road.

Suddenly, a motorist, rolling rapidly down a hill toward her yelled:

"Get out of the road! my brake is no good!"

"Get out of the road! my brake is no good!"

Fright brought out the little mother's reserve strength and she quickly litted her baby, in his carriage over a stone wall. Yet, when the danger was over, she had to call two field hands to lift the carriage back.

Another woman, who had a phobia against cats sat sewing in a large, old-fashioried room, when a strange cat rusbed in, frothing in a fit and scratching around and around on the slippery floor.

The woman screamed and, putting me scraening around and around on the slippery floor.

The woman screamed and, putting one foot on the knob of a high door, climbed to its top. That brought her mother, running in Quickly disposing of the cat, she returned to her daughter. "Josephine!" she asked, "how on earth did you get up there?"

"I don't know," walled the daugher. "Too mearly dead!"

Once, when in deep grief, I atiffened my New England jaw and backbone and said to myself. "You must go through this!"

A psychologist, noticing my grim, braced attitude, took me aside.

"I can help you," he said, "if you will do exactly what I advise."

To an help you," he said, "if you will do exactly what I advise."

On the Rules of Traffic By WILLIAM ULLMAN

Throwing the gears into neutral or disengaging the clutch except momentarily when shifting gears is a violation of the Washington traffic a violation of the Washington traffic regulations.

The isw which is similar to that in many States is based upon recognition of the fact that the engine makes an effective brake upon the motion of the car.

Example—A driver is a half block from his home. The street is clear. He puts the gears into neutral and coasts up to the curb in front of his house. The whole thing has been perfectly safe. Still the regulation has been violated and rigid enforcement would result in a fine for the offender.

I welcomed any suggestion.

He told me to go at once into a dark room, close my eyes and relax completely. When no longer rigid, I was to suggest to myself, several times, with conviction, "I have reserve powers to use that can carry me through even this. I am far stronger than I realize. I am very strong!"

I came from that room with a sense of power and worked with unusual effectiveness. I am convinced that old-fashioned methods of endurance are not scientific for they intensify suffering and prevent efficiency.

STOCKS STILL FALL IN UNEASY MARKET

Commodities Group Shares Are Only Ones Which Show Advances.

FOREIGN ISSUES DECLINE

New York, Dec. 12 (A.P.)—The stock market, which has been faltering all this week, went into a fresh deeline today, the most severe experienced since the autumn crash touched bottom in mid-November The majority of shares lost from 2 to 22, points, and the general price level was reduced approximately to that of the beginning of December.

The market continued to drift, shawing considerable resistance to moderate but persistent bear pressure, such as has been in evidence all week, until the final hour of trading, when speculators for the fall finally managed to dislodge a large volume of stock, and prices sank rapidly. Total sales were 4.504,880 shares, of which nearly 2.000,000 were traded in the last hour.

The break came as an emphatic interruption to the rapid recovery of stock prices, beginning November 14 and progressing with but occasional waverings until the end of last week. Conservative traders, however, began to regard the action of the market as unconvincing as much as a week ago.

Recent Recovery Is Lost.

Recent Recovery is Lost.

The recovery in prices had covered nearly 40 per cent of the ground lost in the autumn collapse. Secondary reactions have not, as a rule, appeared after outstanding bear markets of the last several years until about 45 per cent of the initial losses had been regained, but this rally had been unusually rapid.

Operators were inclined to seize upon the reported shipments of nearly $20,00,000 in gold to London as a bearish development, but at the same time the Bank of England reduced its discount rate one-half of 1 per cent, to 5 per cent, and sterling asgged below the generally accepted outgoing gold point, so that, as a matter of fact, present indications do not point to any large losses of gold. When the Federal Reserve Bank reduced its rediscount rate from 6 to 5 per cent, and subsequently to 4½ per cent last month, it was stated in authoritative banking circles that this was done only with assurances from leading central banks abroad that they would make corresponding reductions before any serious inroads upon our gold stock should take place.

Says Gold Movements Helpful.

Huge losses of gold at this season. normally tightening credit, would be unfavorable, but present gold atocks at so large that many banking authorities welcome a moderate transfer to London where gold is needed. These authorities hold that such a movement would stimulate foreign trade, which may prove an important factor in the revival of industry. Industrial and corporation news was exercipe of a character to break the market. Julius Barnes, head of President Hoover's economic council, stated that a survey of preliminary reports warranted confidence in early stabilization of business activity without justifying excessive optimism before the close of a test period of the next few months. fore the close of next few months.

next few months. Copper stocks increased heavily in November, but large producers are in a strong financial position and are said to remain fairly confident of their ability to maintain the present price level. Passing of the Schulte-United preferred dividend was not unexpected.

Brokers' Loans Increase.

Brokers' Loans Increase.

The weekly brokers' loan statement showed an increase of $33,000,000, negligible in volume compared to the decline of approximately $3,400,000.000 in the previous seven weeks, but giving a definite clew as to the character of the rather violent bullish activity late last week. The Federal Reserve condition statements sibwed further curtailment of rediscounting, while credit was liberated by open market purchases of bills and Government securities. The New York statement disclosed a heavy seasoft flow of funds to the interior. Auburn Auto showed the maximum net loss of 22 points, while Standard Gas lost 19. Westinghouse Electric and Columbian Carbon about 17. Stocks losing 12 to 16 included Allied Chemical, Air Reduction, Stone & Webster, Byers, Eastman Kodak, Johns-Manville, Herahey Chocolate, American Water Works, General Electric, Simmons and U. S. Industrial Alpohol. U. S. Steel. American & Fereign Power, American Telephone, American Can, North American and Union Pacific lost 8 to 10. Radio declined 6 points, Standard of N. J., 3, and General Motors 214.

In the commodity markets, grains were firm in contrast to stocks. Wheat gained 1 to 1½ cents on bullish foreign crop estimates, and corn gained enabult a cent. Cotton sagesed mederately, in sympathy with the stock market.

$2,000,000 INCREASE NEW YORK CURB MAR First-Grade Rails Continue to Maintain Recent Firm Tone. U. S. ISSUES IRREGULAR New York, Dec. 12 (A.P.) -Lack o interest caused bond prices to drift lower today. Volume of trading was about $2,000,000 above yesterday's but much of the increase was in the share privilege section, which weakened on the decline of stock prioes. Dealings in high grade bonds of gelatively low yields were light. For several days there has been a tendency to restrict commitments pending the award of the $100,000,000 dasue of Treasury bills. Bids for these short term securities must be in by domorrow afternoon, but it is not expected that the results will be known until Saturday. Government statings were dull and irregular today. ch of the increase was in the share Time money held at 434 to 5 per cent, with most of the business again being done at the latter figure. Call funds were plentiful at 445 per cent and a 4 per cent rate was quoted in the outside. and a 4 per cent rate was quoted at the outside. First grade and secondary ralls maintained a firm tone, although the easiness which affected the general list after mid-day pared small fractions from the quotations on numerous loans. Utilities and industrials were sluggish. Bethlehem Steel sefunding 5s lost 2 points net and Lehigh Coal & Navigation 4½s dropped 2½, both on minor sales. The old issue of Southern Bell Telephone first 5s fell 1½, also in thin dealings. salings. Among the convertibles, where late ling was fairly heavy, American slephone 4½s registered a net loss 9½ points. International Teletone 4½s soid off 4¾, Reading Coal Iron 6s yielded 1¾ and American tural-Gas 6½s, with warrants, lost 4. Chicago & Northwestern 4¾s, off Texas Corporation 5s were firm. The trend of foreign bonds was wanward and losses of 1 to 3 points weloped in some of the more speculive obligations. LOCAL STOCK EXCHANGE Sales—Regular call. 11:15 a. m. Wh. Cas 6s, 36. Ser. #### Curb Review

New York, Dec. 12 (A.P.) .- Prices on the New York curb market broke sharply in the last hour of trading today after an earlier period of ir-today after an earlier period of irregularity. The reaction received considerable impetus from the operations of bearish professionals although the recent alugishmess of the market also stimulated the liquidistion of considerable long stock. Trading, which was dull early in the session, picked up on the decline, the day's sales running well over 1,000.000 ahares.

Electric Bond & Share, which has been meeting rather large offerings of stock on all recent railies, was heavy from the start closing 9½ points lower at 80, after having touched 78½. American Gas & Electric and Standard Power & Light each dropped 12 points, Northern States Power A 10, American & Foreign Power 8, Hydro Electric & Sand along line of others fell 1 to 5 points.

Guif Oil of Pennsylvania fell more.

and a long line of others fell 1 to 5 points.

Gulf Oil of Pennsylvania fell more than 5 points but declines in the other active issues were relatively small. Cosden Oil closed 2 points net higher. The recent decline in crude oil production has tended to check liquidation in the oil group, which never participated extensively in the recent "bull" movement in prices.

Another Boll Weevil

In a small Southern town there is a monument standing in the village square with an inscription dedicating the stone to the Boll Weevil, Destroyer of Cotton. When this catastrophe first came to the Southern planters they had been struggling for years to make a living out of cotton but its com-ing forced them to plant other forms of produce. The high prices of these crops put money into their purses and they thus honor the boll weevil for their prosperity.

Actual disaster often starts people on the right track, especially in finance. Those investors who have gone through a disastrous period during the last fortnight may well take an example from the Southern farmers and that appear in the investment field. start anew in the investment field.

You, as well as other investors, should diversify your investment and keep a portion of it safe in the First Mortgages sold through Swartzell, Rheem and Hensey Company. For more than sixty years these notes have been safe and their rate of interest, 6%, is liberal and steady. There is this lesson for you in the monument to the Boll Weevil.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, Dec. 12 (A.P.) .- Andre W. Robertson, chairman of the board of the Westinghouse Electric & Manu facturing Co., stated today that the facturing Co., stated today that the company's capital expenditure program for 1930 will exceed $10,000,000. Business of the company, he said, experienced a moderate let-down in November, as compared with the same month last year, but picked up in the first ten days of this month. Employes now number $3,000, compared with $47,000 a year ago, and the annual pay roll approximates $100,000.000, or nearly 50 per cent of the net profits. The new electric refrigerator to be brought out by the company will enter production on a commercial scale January 1.

Plans of the Ohio Oll Co. to acquire the Illinois Pipe Line Co, were made public today in the announcement that a special stockholders' meeting had been called for December 30, to vote on a proposal to create 600,000 shares of 6 per cent $100 par cumulative preferred atock. This new stock will be offered to holders of Illinois Pipe Line stock on the basis of three shares for one.

The Westinghouse Electric Manufacturing Co. disclosed today that it owns more than 200,000 shares of Radio Corporation of America common stock and 50,000 shares of preferred, and that there had been no change in these particular holdings recently.

The Fidelity Investment Association, which devotes its activities exclusively to the sale of annuties, reported today that its resources as of December 1 were $19,750,000, compared with $17,085,318 at the beginning of the wear. ning of the year.

The Yale Daily News is printing tomorrow a statement by Leonor F. Lore, president of the Delaware & Hudson Co., on railroad consolidation. Lorea saserts that the plan recently submitted by his road to the Interstate Commerce 'Commission is designed to protect the future needs of the thirteen populous Northeastern States. "To safeguard the transportation interests of this population," says the statement, "requires a special organization developed out of the present officers and employes who have achieved an attitude in these localities and circumstances. The question at issue is a vital one; vital because it is true, as Kipling says, that probably no great nation ever perished except through a failure to handle its transportation."

Athletes in Clean-Up

Borrowed Sums from "Trust Funds;" List Includes Pape.

Action Indicates Iowa Will Seek Reinstatement in Big Ten.

Towa city. Iowa, Dec. 12 (A.P.)—C. C. Wällama, chairman of the University of Iowa's athletic eligibility committee said tonight that the committee's action in declaring fourteen athletes ineligible was not in the hope of regaining favor of the Western Conference, but due to the necessity of certifying a list of eligible performers to the nonconference schools with whom the Hawkeyes are to compete in the near future.

"Whether such a move will sid in getting Iowa back into the conference is beside the point," Dean Williams said. "I hope that it will. But the action was dictated by the necestry of certifying our list of eligible athletes to schools with whom we are about to compete this season. We could not claim to be certifying under the rules of the intercollegiate conference, of which we are still a member, if we ignored the opinion of the conference which formed the basis of the action in denying our petition."

Fourteen athletes who had borrowed sums ranging from $15$ to $60 from a "trust fund" which was one of the points upon which the conference based its ouster action were crossed off the list of eligible players in five sports. Only one of them had concluded his competition prior to today.

The wholesale action removed four regulars and two reserves from the distributions and the conference is action to the conference of the list of eligible players in five sports. Only one of them had concluded his competition prior to today.

This sum was not looked upon as a

American Legion teams have received financial assistance from the magnates for two previous years, and so popular was the series staged during the season just closed that it is estimated that more than 100,000 teams and nearly 3,000,000 players figured in it. While those who participated in the play were under 18 years of age—too young to be considered as immediate prospects for big league playing berths—the magnates take the attitude that the series is adding polish to possible "ivory" and that. polish to possible "ivory" and that, in any event, backing the series keeps baseba! interest high in the hearts of 3,000,000 potential "cash customers."

Coaching Idea Is New One.

Taking an interest in the National Athletic Federation and the appointment of Leslie Mann, former big league outfielder, as instructor in coaching methods, is something new and no doubt was made chiefly with the view toward opening up another possible field for hunting talent.

The federation is the body which several years ago was organized as a rival of the Amateur Athletic Union for American sports control. It has increased in membership in leaps and bounds and includes among its member bodies the National Collegiate Association, the Intercollegiate Conference, the Young Men's Christian Association and many other groups with Nation-wide activities. Many see in the sudden interest of the major leaguers, in laying the foundation for new "ivory" fields, the possibility of them ultimately throwing down the gauntet to the minors possibility of them intimately innow-ing down the gaustlet to the minors and working ind-pendently. Friction between the big and little fellows of baseball has been more in evidence each succeeding year in the recent past.

It is fast getting to be a case of "dog eat dog" and the big fellows are getting tired of these conditions. According to them, the minors do not believe in the axiom, "Live and let Minors Going.

Their parks are so small that the fans can not pay the expenses and the minors make their living largely by selling talent to the majors. With the inflated values they put on their stars nowadays, the big fellows are getting tired being "stung" and, with the arguments over the draft, options. &c., are just about in the mood to call quits.

to call quits.

Major league ownership of many of the "bush" league outfits, together with elaborate acouting systems, which cover possible playing material in all stages between the cradle and the grave, have made the independent minor clubs of little value as hunting grounds and, if the big leaguers can open enough other fields, they will be absolutely independent of their little brothers and in a position to tell them to "run along and paddle their own canoes."

And backing the "junior world's series" and the National Amateur Athletic Pederation is the opening up of two of these new fields.

Little has been said to date concerning the appointment to the newly created office of graduate manager of athletics. William "Bill" Dudack and Edward Brooks, former G. Father O'Brien, faculty advisor on athletics, stated yesterday this position would be filled within a month. #### 14 IOWA ATHLETES BARRED BY BOARD

The action taken today was seen as evidence of Lowa's intention to conform strictly to Western Conference regulations despite the fact that the Big Ten will not meet its teams in contest, at least temporarily. Indication was given that the Hawkeye athletic board hopes to petition for reinstatement again unless the conference itself invites the Hawkeyes back into the playground.

E. H. Lauer, athletic director, announced that football contracts for 1930 games would be signed for but one year, evidence that the Hawkeyes hope their ouster is not permanent. The single exception is the Nebraska contract, which includes a 1931 game at Lincoln. Lauer denied reports from Lincoln that the centract also included Thanksgiving Day games for 1932 and 1933.

Still another evidence of Iowa's intention to live up to Big Ten regulations was given by announcement that the Penn State game, acheduled for November 15, a week before the Nebraska contest, would be played in Iowa City. Coach Burt Ingwersen had hoped to play the game at Soldiers Field in Chicago, but the conference rule requiring teams to play on the home field of one of the contestants was said to have caused the athletic board to act against the proposal.

ON THE

B ASEBALL news will soon claim a place in the sports discussion. Although the major leagues extended their 1929 season well into the football calendar, the presidents, secretaries and managers are not competing to any extent with the actual news of the games. Numerous deals probably are in the making and in December the details will be announced to Mr.

Mrs. and Miss Fan.

One of the first announcements may be the signing of Babe Ruth, who must have a new contract for 1930, his three-year lease having expired. The big slugger would prefer another three-year document, but will take one for two or even one year if the figures are satisfactory.

The Yankee club will tender a contract reading for one year. That Ruth will be signed without great difficulty goes without saying. His salary for the last three years has been more than $70,000 annually. An increase of a few thousand dollars probably will be regarded as satisfactory.

R UTH is still good for more than a normal quota of home runs and although his legs are not so young as they were, he can still field and throw.

The best asset of the Bambino, aside from his devasting bat, is his baseball sense. He never throws the ball to the wrong base and may be depended on to do the right thing at the right time in a baseball game. This sense is developed to a degree seldom seen even in major league players, who are supposed to be the best in their profession.

Lou Gehrig will also sign a new Yankee contract. "Columbia Lou" spent a distressing summer in 1929 and will be glad to desert his broker's office for the field in the spring to try to show that the bad year was the exception proving the rule.

BOB MEUSEL, always difficult to sign, wills not be one of the Yankees' worries, as he will be on the roster of the Cincinnati Reds. Meusel is a high-salaried player, which in part explains the alacrity with which he was waived out of the American League along with Harry Helimann, the Detroit alugger, who will do his hitting for Cincinnati.

In addition to a disinclination to pay the salaries Meusel and Helimann draw, the other American League clubs knew that they could not get either player, as the Yankees and Tigers would withdraw the requests for waivers before they would permit the two discards to strengthen another club and get base hits against their former mates.

THE release of Elliott Bigelow, one of the hardest hitters in baseball, to Chattanooga by the Boston Red Sox, marks the end, for the time being at least, of an interesting experiment. Bigelow, if played regularly, will hit far better than the average major league player. His arm, however, will not meet the exacting demands of the big time, and his bat alone is not enough to keep him in the majors.

a spirited battle on the St. Alban's floor.

STEWART FIVE BUST.

With eight straight victories to date. the Stewart Bros. Five will tackle the Wahler Whirlwinds in the Silver Spring Armory tonight at 8 o'clock. Doc. Hessler is booking games with 145-pound teams at Columbia 9333.

WILIE KLEIN'S victory in the Midsouth open, including a sensational 66, a great golf score on any course, brings belated recognition to a good young pro. The Long Island shot maker, whose hair, the color of a wheat field when the grain is ripe, waves in the breezes on a hundred courses in a year's play, has been just on the verge of greatness for years, but until the lightning struck at Pinehurst, N. C., the other day, his-signal triumphs were not so close-together as he would like to have them. Given a columbia 9333.

DISTRICT SCHOOL PASSERS IN FIVE GAMES TODAY

-By H. W. Webster

Eastern and Bridge Western in Features

Guyon's Team Plays Emerson; Western Meets Swavely.

Business and Landon Face Grads, Faculty, Respectively.

ORE high and prep school basket ball teams will swing into action today than on any other previous day this season and before night falls every high team in the city will have played two games with the exception of Tech's champion aggregation, which will not open its season until a week from today.

Altogether, five games are listed invelying local teams, and all but one will be played on floors within the District. The game between Bliss Electrical School and the De Molay Five at Frederick, Md., is the lone engagement to be played on foreign soil.

engagement to be played on foreignsoil.

Outstanding among the local attractions will be Eastern's clash with the Emerson Prep Team in the Lincolin Park gym and the WesternSwavely game on the Western floor.
The Emerson game was originally slated to be Eastern's ipaugural of the current campaign, but Chief Guyon hurriedly decided to take his Lincoin Parkers to Alexandria for a game last Saturday night. Western's combination has been without action since a week ago yesterday, when it ewamped the Hyattsville Five under a deluge of baskets to cop its opener.
32-3.

a deluge of baskers to cop its opener, 32-3.

Although Capt. Ryan, Noonan, Robey and Kane are likely to start on the first-string team, Guyon, nevertheless, has several youngsters who may force these lads to the limit to hold their jobs. In Fineran and Kesser, Eastern can boast of two fast, snappy court players who bid fair to shine for the Light Blue and White once the season gets under way. And there is also Ben McCullough, who has just finished a brilliant season on the gridiron, ready to resume his place on a five of which he was an important part last year.

Eastern Should Give Prep.

Eastern Should Give Prep
Five Trouble.

Even if Coach H P Sanborn should take a husky combination, which is reported to be in training at Emerson, to Eastern eoday, the Prepmen may have trouble in stopping the fleet pint-sized players of Guyon.

Coach Clifton Moore's Western Five should have little trouble in turning back the Swavely invaders this afternoon if his boys show half the form they flashed against Hyatts-ville last week. Although Hyatts-ville failed to produce any kind of opposition, the Red and White basketers looked unusually smooth in their attack, while their defense was so rigid that their opponents could score but one field goal.

Reports that Jimmy Thompson, captain and crack forward of the Western aggregation, might break into the game today for the first time this season, were denied last night by Coach Moore, who stated that his accould not break into the line-up until after the Christmas holidays. Although able to work out with his team in practice sessions, Thompson is in no condition to play under fire, and Moore, in commenting on Thompson, said that he would take no chances with the stellar performer.

If Thompson's fractured arm were to receive any hard knocks it would be "finis" for him, and Moore will count himself lucky if last year's ace is able to play in the interhigh series games.

Business Hopes to Again

at Lynn Woodworth's present aggregation this afternoon, "Woody" is confident that the combination of Chase, Newman, Lucas, Loftus and Singman will again take the grads into camp and keep their perfect record spotiess. After seeing his charges knock off the Strayer Five by 38 points Tuesday, the Stenog mentor is in an exceptionally optimistic frame of mind and if the advisory marks due to come out tomorrow do not deprive him of any of his team, will be "rarin' to go" when the interhigh series opens on January 7. The first basket ball team in the history of Landon School will take on its faculty this afternoon when Coach Gordon t Lynn Woodworth's present aggreation this afternoon, "Woody" i Landon School will take on its faculty this afternoon when Coach Gordon Kessler sends his brand-new five against the professors of the new school. It will be the opening game of the season for the Landon toasers.

Lynchburg Champs Play Fives Tomorrow

Special to The Washington Post. Charlottesville, Va., Dec. 12.-The Fives, Charlottesville midget football which started the Virginia diron season with a game August will close the campaign in the Old minion in a postseason game Satrday with the Stadium Midgets, Lynchburg city champs.

The Pives are playing this game saturday with the understandin that its outcome is in no way to affect their clam for the national championship in the 100-pound class. It will be prayed on Lambeth Field nd will begin at 2:30 p. m. Negolations are under way for the Five o go to California for a game during the Christmas holidays. If this conest falls through, the Charlottesville boys will probably accept the offer of Charlotte, N. C., for a Christmas game in that city.

BALL TOTER 4 Veterans Form Nucleus Of Duke's 1930 Ring Team

Nash First Back to Martin, Two of Best, Battling in Same Class. Six Meets Planned.

Special to The Washington Post.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Dec. 12.—
Strud Nash, captain-elect of the Tarheels for next year, will be the first Tarheel back field captain in nine years. Ejection of Nash broke a continuous regime of line leaders that dated back to 1921 and the paimy days of "Runt" Lowe, rated by some as the Tarheels' greatest quarterback of all time.

The eight-year regime showed three fackles, two guards, two centers, one end—eight fine linemen. By years they were Grady Pritchard, tackle: Roy Morris, end; Pierce Matthews tackle: Herman McIver, center, "Red" Whisnant, guard; Garrett Morehead, tackle: Harry Schwartz, center, and this year's captain, Ray Farris, all-American guard.

The sudden break from the well-established tradition is hard to explain. established transfer of the plain.

There was a time when Tarheel teams were outstanding for fine defensive work. Defense was good this year, with all opponents held to a total of 53 points. But the 348-point offensive was far more conspicuous.

total of 53 points. But the 346-point offensive was far more conspicuous. The Tarheels had become an offensive machine, and if more reasons are wanted, Nash himself can supply them.

The kind of back who would usually be depended upon when a passcatch or a tackle thrust was needed for first down, he was as fine also on defense and interference.

He played well all season, and really shone against Virginia and Duke, the traditional rivals on the Tarheel schedule.

In the former, he averaged 12 yards, run, broke off tackle for 50 yards a run, broke off tackle for 50 yards and a touchdown, and scored another on a fine pass catch and long run. In the latter he scored the first three of seven touchdowns that put the Tarheels in second place in the national scoring chase.

Nash is from Charleston, S. C., but is a Tarheel by birth. He has just turned 22, is a good student, and is prominent in other extracurricular activities at the university.

DURHAM, ... C., Dec. 12.—Four of the seven boxing classes of the Duke Team are wide open as work started this week to get the glove wielders in shape for the sea-son. There is a wild scramble on for jobs in the 115, 135, 160 pound and heavyweight classes. The light-heavy. 125-pound: and 145-pound classes are well taken care of by veterans.

Unfortunately, two of the best boxers on the team are in the same tlass this ye'r. St. Amand, the captain of the team, has taken on weight and has jumped from the 115 to the 125 pound class, where Martin is boxing. Just what will happen in this case is more than Tex Tilson can now figure. Both are good men. There was nothing "heavy" on the coaches' docket, Dan McGugin of Vanderbilt, president of the association, told newspaper men on his arrival today. He added that the main idea of the athletic directors' parley was to keep up personal contact in the Southern coaching fraternity. A business meeting set for the afternoon, was canceled due to the delayed arrival of many delegates, and action on the resolutions and election of officers postponed until tonight after a get-together banquet at a hunting lodge near the city, tendered the visitors by Coach Russ Cohen of Louisana State University.

Informal Parleys Held

Informal Parleys Held

By Coaches.

During the afternoon small informal parleys were being held in the hotels as the coaches shaped tentative schedules and probable engagements for future seasons. But with most of the 1930 cards complete, none was willing to talk as yet of contracts pending or signed for more remote years. Various officials were being secured for the 1930 games, however.

Up Today.

Among the important topics slated to come before the conference were the long-discussed split in the circuit, which no one seems willing to publicly sponsor, a central booking agency for officials in the South eligibility rules as applied to junior college men, and the possible elimination of scouting in Dixie.

It is known that Tallman, although himself a line coach, would like to have a capable lineman to assist him. Homer Hogue, his line assistant this past year, will not return next fall. He will finish his course in the university in June and does not intend to follow the coaching profession thereafter.

It is rumored, however, that Steve Harrick will again be attached to the varsity staff and Eddie Vacheresse to the freshmen, while Walter ("Red") Mahan, Rodgers' first lieutenant, was recommended two weeks ago to hold the same position next year. Two of them, Dale Van Sickel, captain of the basket ball team, and "Monk" Dorsett, promising sophomore guard, were confined to "spectators' row." Both are nursing football injuries and will be incapacitated for the early practice. "Cannonball" Clyde Crabtree was out early in basketball tags and has hopes of being Florida's leading scorer for the third successive scanon. Clyde has been the offensive star of the 'Gator cagers for two years. Dale "Muddy" Waters, Ben Clemons, Frank Clark. Homer Seay and Ed Sauls were other boys who figured prominently in the recent football campaign who hope to be in the basketball running this year. Coach Cowell has held basket ball practice three nights a week during the regular football season in hopes of building up a sport which has been rather weak here for some years. The football men, of course, did not attend the sessions, but a squad of about 20 reported regularly for the workouts.

HONTS NAMED HEAD OF ARLINGTON CLUB

Monarchs Select New Slate of Officers at Annual Election Meeting.

MOORE ANSWERS LETTER

ARLINGTON COUNTY. BUREAU OF THE POST.

Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon. Va.

A. B. Honts was elected president of the Arlington County Monarch Club at its annual meeting yesterday at the Ashton Heights Woman's Club house.
Other officers elected were C. W.
Pitch, first vice president; Dexter S.
Hussey, second vice president; P. P.
Woodbridge, secretary; Joseph C. Anderson, treasurer, and William P.
Ames, sergeant at arms.
The newly elected officers will assume their new duties at the January meeting.

Replying to a letter from William Bragg, of Clarendon, chairman of the Virginia Park and Planning Commission, Representative R. Walton Moore sion, Representative R. Walton Moore declared his. personal opposition to the location of the Sun Oil Co. plant on a site fronting the Lee highway above the Key Bridge in Rosslyn.

Bragg in his letter to Representative Moore said that in face of county-wide opposition, the permit was issued by the county board of supervisors. His attention also was-called to the request which has been made by the oil company for a permit for the erection of a wharf which has been filed with the War Department but not yet acted upon. Representative Moore is asked to use his influence to prevent granting the permit.

is asked to use his influence to pre-vent granting the permit.

Representative Moore stated in his reply that while the final decision regarding the permit for the wharf did not rest with him, he did not consider it improper for him as a pri-vate citizen who is much interested in the future development of Arling-ton County to express his individual solution.

He further pointed out that he understood the huge tanks would be inview of the Key Bridge and also from the Lee highway and from residences on the upper section of Mackeys Hill and would tend to prevent the construction of other homes in the immediate neighborhood, since there is always more or less danger from fire due to the inflammable nature of resoline.

gasoline. Representative Moore declared it appeared most probable that the Cramton bill will be passed by Congress. This bill provides for a substantial contribution by the Government toward the development of the ment toward the development of the river shore of Arlington and Fairfax

State Senator Frank L. Ball having State Senator Frank L. Ball having announced that at the coming session of the Legislature he will introduce a bill provide for a joint zoning and planning body for Arington and Fairfax Counties and the City of Alexandria, plans were completed last night for a joint session of the boards of directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the three communities to consider the bill.

P. P. Woodbridge, executive secre-

P. P. Woodbridge, executive secretary of the Arlington County Chamber of Commerce, stated that arrangements have been completed for the meeting to be held in the rooms of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce in the George Mason Hotel, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, December 18.

Senator Ball will explain many fea-The bill at the meeting.

The bill provides for a commission of six members, two from Arlington and two from Fairfax Countles. One member from each of the three communities would member of the governing board a memoer of the governing board of the other member would be ap-inted from unofficial life. The commission would have charge the administration of zoning with-the entire area, and if the bill sees present zoning commissions build cease to function.

Senator Ball stated that the pro-posed bill has been prepared with the approval and assistance of Maj. Carey Brown, former member of the Na-tional Capital Park and Planning Commission, and will, if enacted, pro-vide the official body long sought by Lieut, Col. U. S. Grant 3d, executive officer of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission.

O. J. Schuster was elected president of the Lyon Park Garden Club at its meeting held in the community house last night. Other officers are: C. N. Deaton, vice president; Mrs. P. C. Dyer, recording secretary; Mrs. J. C. Polsom, corresponding secretary, and G. P. Taylor, treasurer.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Patrick Henry School will hold its monthly meeting at the school-house tonight at 8 o'clock. The need of a community house will be the principal subject of discussion.

The men of St. George's Episcopal Church will meet in the parish hall tonight at 8 o'clock to complete plans for perfecting of a men's organization in the church. Lieut. Comdr. W. Eddredge Goodhue, U.S. A., will be the principal speaker. He will speak on "Twenty Years in the Navy." Commander Goodhue was in command of a division of patroling craft during the World War.

Harry Birch has been appointed egistrar of Falls Church precinct by Samuel Styles, Democratic commit-teeman from that territory. Birch will succeed Clarence F. Sale, whose resignation was recently forwarded to the county eccitoral board.

highway near Pohick, Va., when the automobile he was driving in "bumming" a ride north with a colored motorist telescoped into the rear end of a northbound truck in skidding on the sleet-tovered road in the fog.

Carl Marks, colored, of New York City, owner of the automobile, suffered minor cuts and bruises in the crash, but declined medical aid.

Traffic Policeman C. A. Ransome, of Fairfax County, in responding to a call, went to the scene and removed the unidentified man to the hospital at Fort Humphreys, Va., nearby, where Army physicians pronounced the man dead on arrival. The body was to be viewed during the night by Coroner C. A. Ransome, of the county.

Fairfax County authorities quoted the Negro as declaring that while driving to New York the unidentified man asked him for a ride about noon yesterday in Lynchburg. They said he assented and later turned the wheel over to the man, while he rested in a rear seat. Proceeding at a moderate of speed the car was making progress through a bank of fog over the roadway when the rear end of the moving truck loomed a short distance shead. They said the Negro told them ahead. They said the Negro told them that the man failed to swing the machine out of danger and crashed into the rear of the truck.

The Negro said that the man did not make his identity known and that he saw no reason to ask any questions. The man appeared to be about 35 years old, was 5 feet 7 inches in height, weighing about 135 pounds.

But Any Citizen Has Right to

TALKS BEFORE STUDENTS

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 12 (A.P.).—Any citizen has the right to join a union, but under present "depressed and complicated conditions" an attempt by "foreign influences and outside unsympathetic organizations to unionize" Southern cotton mills would be disastrous to both employer and employer, B. B. Gossett, of Charlotte, a director of the Cotton-Textile Institute of America, told State officials, members of the faculty and student body of North Carolina State College here today.

Gossett, who also is chairman of the industrial section of the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development and head of one of the largest cotton mill chains in the Carolinas, spoke at the request of President E. C. Brooks, of the college. His address dealt exhaustively with the vital phases of the present depression in the textile industry.

Gossett asserted that the textile industry of the Carolinas, as a whole, had nothing to be ashamed of.

Calls Manufacture Unprofitable.

"If an investigation by the Federal Government should be made so extensive as to include conditions in the industry in other sections of the country as well as the South, including the garment workers in the great cities; if it were made so seaching as to bring out clearly to the public the generally unprofitable character of cotton manufacturing, the cause and possible remedies, there is no reason why Southern mills should not welcome it." said Gossett.

He was unhesitant in his opposition to the suggestion of unionization of cotton mill employes as one of the steps necessary to bring better social and industrial relationship between employers and employes.

"I am very clear in my own mind," he said, "that under the present depressed and complicated conditions nothing could happen that would result more disastrously to employer and employe alike than an attempt by foreign influence and outside unsympathetic organization to unionize our cotton mill operatives.

Wouldn't Deny Rights. Calls Manufacture Unprofitable

Wouldn't Deny Rights.

"No fair-minded man will deny the right of any citizen to join a union."
The speaker presented statistics to show that in the latter decade, while many major industries were making large profits cotton textiles the world over had been in the grip of a depression. As to the cause of the general un-profitableness of the industry, Gos-sett said it was due largely to the policy of many mills which fail to realize the importance of adjusting their operations to demand. The ease with which workers can be trained was cited by Gossett as being one of the governing factors in the textile industry's wage scale. An-other was the comparatively low agricultural wage scale in the South. other was the comparatively low agricultural wage scale in the South. Turning toward constructive policies necessary, he said, a majority of mill owners favor abolishing night work. "This, however, brings up a tremendous social and industrial problem, Thousands would be thrown out of employment if it were stopped," he added.

Man, 70, Is Accused Of Poisoned Drink

Louisa County Native Goes on Trial Today in Death of W. H. Snow. Special to The Washington Post.

Special to The Washington Post.

Gordonsville, Va., Dec. 12. — John Johnson, 70 years old, a native of Louisa County, who has been at liberty under $10,000 bail posted by several prominent citizens of the county, will be brought to trial in the circuit court of Louisa tomorrow for the alleged murder of W. H. Snow on the evening of October 31.

Snow, who leaves a wife and six children, one a paral-tic, died while en route to Gordonsville to consult a physician after being taken violently ill upon taking a drink alleged to haw been given him by Johnson. A chemal analysis of the stomach showed the dead man to have been poisoned. This and testimony of witnesses led to Johnson's arrest on the charge of murder.

January 22 has been tentatively set for the trial in the same court of Robert McDonald, confessed slayer of John Ross Marshall, World War veteran, at his home near Louisa last July.

After the report of three alienists McDonald was placed in the criminal asylum at Marion for observation and, as a result, has been pronounced not insane.

Several Accidents Reported, Although Motorists Escaped Harm.

ROAD PLANS TAKE SHAPE

Traffic was seriously hampered in Prince Georges County by sleet andalice yesterday. Reports of cars skidding from the road and that four buses had been haited at Laurel because of the dangerous condition of the road filtered into the various police stations all day, although no serious accidents were reported.

At several points, especials along the Crain highway between Upper Mariboro and Brandywine yesterday morning, vehicular traffic was practically at a standstill. The slippery surface of the hill near Charles Branch resulted in the overturning of several cars and many narrow escapes from serious injury.

Among those injured at this point were Miss Helen Briscoe, secretary to Summerfield D. Hall, clerk of the circuit court; Miss May Townshend, an employe of the county treasurer's office. The car of John Smith, a salesman of Brandywine, turned over at Rosaryville. Miss Briscoe was driving, with Miss Townshend as a passenger, when her car skidded from the road and turned over. Both women were bruised and shocked, but not seriously injured. Smith's car also turned over, but he was uninjured except for bruises, and he turned his car back on its wheels and drove off.

A. Pinkney Ryon, deputy clerk of the circuit court, who was on his way to Upper Mariboro with his three small children in the car, had a narrow escape. As he approached the hill where Miss Briscoe's car had turned over, he saw the gathered automobiles and jammed his brakes too suddenly. The car then began skidding in circles, out of control. Luckily, its progress was stopped by one of the fences which had been erected at the brink of a 20-foot drop. The back of the car struck one of the firmly rooted posts and stopped.

Boone's Hill, the extension of Benning road, from Central avenue to the Mariboro pike, was impassable. More than a dozen cars were scattered along the fringes of the road, unable to proceed over the icy roadway.

The buses remained at Laurel for a considerable period of time following the collision with an automobile by one of the buses, without injuries. Passengers on the buses hesitated to proceed, as did the drivers. The alippery r injured. No reports were taken by the police.

The Baltimore boulevard last night became covered with ice and near Laurel the ice was covered with a light fall of anow.

Members of the Prince Georges County Rescue Squad maintained un-usual preparations for accidents but had not been called at a late hour less night.

The Prince Georges County com-missioners today will journey to Baltimore to confer with the Mary-land State Road Commission on the 1930 road building program for the county. The conference was requested by G. Clinton Uhl, chairman of the roads commission. The commission

The county commissioners are prepared to state the amount they expect to expend on roads in 1930 but are not prepared to state specifically just which roads they plan to improve. The county has a total of $323,000 to expend next year, of which about $125,000 is represented in unsold bonds authorized by the last Legislature.

Autos' Death Rate At Richmond Rises

26.3 Per 100,000 Victims of Cars, Survey of Four Weeks Show.

Weeks Show.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 17 (A.P.).—
Richmond's death rate from automobile accidents for the four weeks ending November 30, 1929, was 26.3 per cent per 100,000 population in comparison with 25.9, the average for 78 large cities in the United States, the Bureau of Census report released here reveals.

Richmond's rate for the corresponding period last year was 23.8.

Of the eight deaths attributed to auto accidents in the period considered, but three were credited to accidents occurring within city limits, Considering the city accidents only the local rate was 16.5 per 100,000, which was, however, higher than the rate, 13.4, for the corresponding period last year.

The national rate increased from 22.5 per 100,000 for the four weeks ending December 1, 1928, to 25.9 for the four weeks ending December 1, 1928, to 25.9 for the four weeks ending November 30, 1929.

Gordonsville, Va., Dec. 12.—In a smallpox climic conducted in Louisa County more than 2,500 children were vaccinated. The clinic operated by the Louisa Board of Health in cooperation with the State Health Department was one of the most successful held in recent years.

The clinic was conducted by Drs. H. W. Porter and H. S. Daniel, Jr., of Louisa, and Dr. E. A. Terrell, assistant State commissioner of health. It was held in anticipation of the winter season when smallpox is particularly prevalent. The preventive step is expected to keep Louisa free from a disease which has afflicted several localities.
